Lorenzo Findlay Gives Valedictory Address

Valedictorian address at commencement exercises on June 7 to be delivered by Lorenzo Findlay, Ogden, University of Utah recently announced.

Findlay completed his work in last quarter of this year with straight A average in all cases. He graduated with an accounting major and finance and banking minor, and is presently employed as an accountant with United Air Lines in San Francisco.

An Ogden High School graduate in 1949, Findlay spent two years at Weber College, graduating with highest honors. He served on a mission in Hawaii from 1949 to 1950. He returned to take up his studies at Brigham Young University in 1950, during his junior year he received the Wall Street Journal award in finance and banking.

Before he was able to complete his college work, Findlay served two years with Counter Intelligence.

Dr. Harvey Fletcher to Speak at National Meets

Dr. Harvey Fletcher, dean of the new College of Physical and Engineering Sciences, has been asked to fill four speaking engagements within two months.

On May 20 and 21, he will be at the meeting of the American Physical Society at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. Topic of his discussion will be the effect of the noise from jet engines on human behavior.

He has accepted an invitation to speak at Purdue University June 15, before the National Society for Engineering Education. Dr. Fletcher's subject will be The Place of Physics in Engineering Curriculum.

Dr. Fletcher was the first president and one of the founders of the Acoustical Society of America. He will attend the 25th anniversary of its founding in New York City June 23-25. He also plans to speak at the Society of Acoustical Engineers at their annual meeting in Chicago, June 30.

Seniors Urged to Make Breakfast Reservations

All seniors who plan to attend the senior breakfast June 7 must register at the reservation booths. If they plan to bring guests they must pay a $1 fee at the time they register.

Booths will be set up in the Joseph Smith and Eyring Physical Science Center lobbies this week.

The breakfast will be held at 8 a.m. in the Provo-East Provo State House on Ninth East and State South. Andy Terry is general chairman of the breakfast, with table arrangements and catering service under the direction of Lucille Hume. Sylvia Tyler is in charge of ticket sales and reservations, and Barbara Kirkhead will make programs.

gence Corps of the Army in the United States and Germany. He is married to Evelyn L. Harris of Ogden.

Faculty Announces Registration Plans

Students planning to attend summer school should notify the IBM office so that their packets can be set up and their registration made as simple and rapid as possible, announced Ariel S. Ball, IBM. Registration day will be June 14.

Summer quarter provides opportunity for persons who are employed during the usual nine months of schooling to pursue graduate work.

AWS Council Is Chosen For 1954-55

New council members have been chosen to assist officers of the Associated Women Students for the 1954-55 school years.

New members are Doreen All Look, Hawaii; Barbara Ballif and Shirley Burns, Ogden; Janet Caldwell, Spanish Fork; Dorothy Chidester and Diana Hunt, Salt Lake City; Kay Creer, Concord, Calif.; Carol Harward, Lehi; Jean Mortimer, Montclair, N.J.; Irene Oates, Pasadena, Calif.; Nadine Ottosen, Roosevelt; and Maxine Reed, Denver, Colo.

Girls who have been chosen were first recommended by this year's and last year's officers, and then interviewed Friday by at least one of next year's officers.

Activities other than the Preference Ball, Y Day, and Women's Week, which the council will direct are the Big Sister Program, Transfer Party, Christmas Drive, and Songfest.

During the initial meeting of the council and officers several items were discussed, including the duties, activities, and uniforms. The Big Sister Program will be among the items for discussion at the next meeting.

Western Days Feature Displays and Dances, Weight Judging Contest

Y Western Days gets into full swing this week with displays, a contest, rodeos, demonstrations, two dances and an assembly scheduled. Arizona, Ag, and Rodeo clubs are co-sponsoring the week.

Marjorie Spenser, Y Western Days queen, and her attendants, Elaine Austin and Sandra Pace, will reign over the week-long festivities.

Sheep Fleece Tuesday's schedule includes a sheep clipping demonstration by Y Western Days general chairman, Slim Olson. The event will take place at noon, north of the Smith building, according to Mr. Olson.

Also on today's agenda is a swine demonstration showing the effects of different feeds on animals. Three hogs from the same litter will be used in the demonstration.

Agromony and horticulture displays were set up Monday in the Eyring Physical Science Center and Smith lobby by the Ag club and will be on display today. Students are urged to participate in these events between classes.

Ham Awarded Winner of Tuesday's weight judging contest will receive a ham in Thursday's student assembly. The contestants will estimate the difference in weight of two hogs. The winner must be a mat dancer sponsored by the Arizona club.

One of the more popular displays is the incubator full of chicks and turkeys in the Brigham building. The incubator will be displayed today only, according to Chairman Seal and is sponsored by the Ag club.

A livestock show was sponsored yesterday by the Ag club, featuring prize sheep, cattle, and hogs. Members of the BYU judging class helped make arrangements, according to Chairman Olson.

The combined clubs will sponsor (Continued on page 8)

Traveling Clothes Must Be Cool, Wrinkle Resistant

by Marian Johnson
Universe Society Writer
Versatility is the key for traveling wardrobes. And with the end of school looming near, many of you will be thinking of clothes for tours to Europe, Mexico, or U. S. points of interest.

Choose the clothes you take wisely, remembering that space will be at a premium. Each article of clothing must play a dual role. They must be the type that will come out of the suitcase as fresh as the proverbial daisy.

For that plane or train trip a crease-resistant linen suit in one of the new spring shades will be perfect. Or you might choose a moss green or luggage coat of burcap (the newest fashion favorite) lined in cotton. This will give you just the right amount of protection for the cool summer nights.

Traveling by car requires an outfit which can be slept in comfortably and still be acceptable at most restaurants. One of those new squaw dresses is just the thing. Be careful when you choose yours though. Most are beautiful, but some border on the gaudy. Remember, you really don't want to look like a squaw.

For those summertime dances, an ethereal organdie dress footed with a pair of bare, bare sandals is striking.

Dr. Shirts Elected To President's Post

Recently elected president of the Brigham Young University chapter of Phi Delta Kappa for 1954-55 school year is Dr. Morris Shirts, professor of education.

Other new officers are Vern Jensen, vice president; Stanley Leavitt, secretary; Ross Donham, treasurer; and Ray Merrill, historian.

New Unit, Kappa Alpha Theta Is Organized on Campus by Men

An entirely new social unit has been organized on the Brigham Young University Campus and is beginning functions.

Titled Kappa Theta Alpha, this fellow unit has as its primary purpose to strengthen the members spiritually, academically and socially, to attain for the university a higher degree of perfection, and to promote a feeling of unity and friendliness among the social units. These are the main standards in their preamble of the constitution.

The founders of Kappa Theta Alpha feel that the unit will be of value to the university and will begin active participation in campus functions and activities the beginning of next year.

The founders are: Norman Jackson, Sigma Phi Fraternity; Jim Green, Ray Helberg, Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity; Lynn Alring, Delta Gamma Fraternity; Delta Phi fraternity; Bob Lundquist, A Cappella Choir; and Val Jackson, recent Delta Phi president.

Activities for this unit will begin next fall and will continue throughout the coming school year. The organizations will comprise approximately 50 charter members. Even though activities are being held until next year, the founders are busily working on arrangements.

IK's Invite Frosh and Sophomores To Spring Quarter Openhouse

The Intercollegiate Knights invited all second quarter freshmen or sophomores interested in joining this national service fraternity to their spring quarter open house, Wednesday, in 250 Smith building at 4:30 p.m.

At this meeting information will be given regarding the duties and responsibilities of a member of the fraternity.

The requirements of a page are: attendance at open houses where a register will be signed; the completion of an application for membership from the Student Coordinator's office; the successful completion of the page period of one quarter; a 1.5 grade-point average; and an impartial Knight will be assigned to interview each person filling out an application and report to the council on the following:

High school and college grades; high school and college activities; interest and attitude toward the Intercollegiate Knight activities; hobbies; talents; appearance; general impression of person interviewed; and the time that the person will be able to donate to activities. After successful completion of these requirements the page will become knighted.

Activities of the page during his pledging period will be the same type of activities that the regular member will be engaged in. He will work side by side with the old members so that he will become acquainted with the work and the regular Knights.

These activities include: ushering at lyceums and athletic events, selling programs at the Homecoming game, freshmen orientation activities such as tours of the campus, construction of a Homecoming float, sponsoring of Hello week events such as an assembly, two dances and the lighting of the Y, ring in the Old Y Bell after athletic events and any other activities that a page is called upon to take part in.

Pledging is a period in which the prospective Knight and the regular member are each trying to find out one thing.

Winners of Art Awards Told Following Exhibit

Studio Art Guild of Brigham Young University recently sponsored the annual Spring Exhibit (Art Social) at which six art award winners were announced. This exhibit is now on display in the mezzanine of Eyring Physical Science Center. Thirteen students received recognition from these awards for outstanding work.

Receiving first place in the I. E. Brockbank Award was Jim Shields, an art major from Ogden. Richards attended Webb College.

Verla Burrell award was given to Douglas Starr of Idaho Falls, Idaho. This sophomore art major is one with unusual experience in water colors. When asked about his training Doug said, "I think that I owe all I know about water colors to Glen Turner, my instructor here at BYU." He plans to return to Idaho Falls this summer to reopen his shop. This young artist who has had no commercial art training has some of his water color paintings on sale.

Goldwin Cluff from Illinois, received for the second year in row, the Studio Art award. He plans next year to teach elementary education in San Diego, Calif. This is his third year at BYU.

Roman Andrus Print award went to a young lady from Orem, Louise Sachett. After receiving several awards in high school, Louise came to BYU as an art major and is now a sophomore.

Sculpture Citation for 1954 was awarded to Franz J. Hansen, a junior art major from Huntsville. Last year Johanson received the B. F. Larsen award.

Unusual circumstances surround the awarding of the B. F. Larsen Crafts award to Mrs. Maurine Bryner, Mrs. Bryner

Mothers Receive Funds To Continue Studies

Standard Oil Company announced award of two $400 scholarships to undergraduates students. Winners are Mrs. Darius Hyde and Mrs. Glenn Mitchell.

Mrs. Hyde, American Fork, is mother of six children, aged two to 20. Her oldest son was with the armed forces in Korea. She entered BYU this summer and is majoring in education.

Mother of five children, Mrs. Mitchell is majoring in secondary education. She plans to teach home economics.

Dallas Burnett Wins Mrs. Forace Green Medal As Leading Journalist Among 1954 Graduates

Dallas Burnett, a senior from Bell, California is recipient of the Mrs. Forace Green Journalism Medal. This award is given annually to the outstanding senior journalism student by Utah publisher Forace Green. Mr. Green graduated from the first class of BYU journalism department in 1936 and has given the award since that time.

Dallas has worked on the University staff all four years while attending the university. He served as business manager this year. He is Press Club president for this year and is a member of the Blue Key, senior men's honorary.

Jerry Cahill is winner of the was a graduate from BYU in 1928, with a major in home economics and a minor in speech. Despite caring for her three children, Mrs. Bryner took a class in crafts and received the award for her work.

Those receiving recognition were: I. E. This is Western's fifth year at BYU. He will graduate this spring with a major in accounting.

Deseret News and Telegram Scholarship and Internship award. This award is presented annually to the outstanding junior journalism student, and provides for employment in the editorial office of the newspaper this summer and a full year's scholarship to BYU next fall.

Jerry has recently worked as editor of the Universe this spring quarter. While in high school he was sports reporter and yearbook editor. He was also sports editor on the Payson Chronicle, correspondent for the Salt Lake Tribune and sports writer for the Provo Herald.

Study Grants Established For Students

Scholarships ranging in value from $175 to $875 are being given to thirty students in graduate work for further study at Brigham Young University. The academic year covered by the scholarships includes autumn, winter and spring quarters. They do not apply to summer school or extension work.

This is the first year such aid has been awarded to graduate students. The Board of Trustees recently appropriated the sums for future budgets.

General requirements are that a person must be carrying a full academic load, cannot do outside work, and must be a candidate for a master's degree. Some of the winners are seniors who will graduate from BYU, June 7. Others received their B.S. degrees from nearby universities.

Awards were divided into three classes. They are: Class one, free tuition; class two, free tuition plus $300; class three, free tuition plus $500. Students with highest grade point averages receive the highest scholarships.

In determining the recipients, grade point average for the students' entire college courses was the sole determinant. Major fields were not taken into consideration; however, Dr. Christensen stated that at some future time it may be necessary to distribute scholarships to cover all major fields. Women were given equal consideration with men.

Faculty committee members were: Dr. Christensen, chairman; Dr. Harvey Fletcher and Dean George H. Hansen.

Students from other universities who will receive eight of these scholarships are: Sherwin H. Baer, University of Utah; Wayne Delmar Bell, University of Utah; Donald O. Dewey, University of Oregon; Albert A. Pieper, Ricks College; Marilyn Redford, University of Utah; Jay M. Richardson, New Mexico Western College; Clara Peterson Sudweeks, University of Arizona.

Graduates from BYU who merit awards are: Mae Rae Bartholomew, Merrill Kay Brandshaw, Harold Gregory Connell, LaRae Dunn, Lorna Ann Erickson, Lorenzo Fay Findley, Leo Fay Folsom, Gerald L. Hardy, Marvin S. Hill, Max W. Hill, Dallin W. Jensen, Roanne Koudsen, Mary Parker Packham, Jack Lindsay Parker, Kendall Owen Price, Claire Winchell, Kenneth H. Smith, Martha Howe Price, Stanley Roy Thurber, Claudia Eileen Viles and Gayle Ellen Walton.

RESEARCH CHEMISTS—James Ott and Keith Rigby will conduct research projects for Kennecott Copper Co. They were granted $500 scholarships from the company for the coming year.

Chemistry Majors Recipients Of Scholarships, Other Awards

Two scholarships, and seven honor awards have been made to students in the chemistry department.

Two Kennecott Copper Co. scholarships, valued at $500 each, were awarded to James Ott and Keith Rigby. They were given to encourage study of methods and techniques for production and use of minerals and metals.

This is the first awarding of these scholarships, which will be made every year. A feature of these awards is that a sum equivalent to the two scholarships is given the school to help pay education costs of the two students.

Charles and Margaret Maw awards, given by an anonymous donor, were received by James Almond, Marion Probert and Ralph Anderson. Dr. Maw was chemistry professor and head of chemistry department from 1903-1934. He served four years as university professor emeritus until his death in 1950. Mrs. Maw, former national president of the Clubwomen of America Association, resides in Provo.

Probert, all-conference end on the football team, has a double major in zoology and chemistry and plans to continue medical studies at University of Washington after graduation. Anderson is majoring in chemical engineering.

Charles Maw Award, also given by an anonymous donor, was made to Conrad P. Willis, Snowflake, Arizona.

Grant Willis will receive the J. Rex Goates award, given by Marvin Gordon, Rainier, Ore. BYU graduate, in honor of Dr. J. Rex Goates of the chemistry department. This award is given to scholastically highest student in physical chemistry and includes membership in the American Chemical Society and subscription to National Physical Journal.

Dr. Henry J. Nicholas announced that the Merck Index award has been given to Joseph Krofcheck and Richard Hebertson. This award is given by Merck and Company, manufacturing chemists who offer scholarships to chemistry majors in every college graduating class in America. According to Dr. Nicholas, the award is given to encourage students to major in chemistry.

Krofcheck transferred from UCLA two years ago and intends to go to the University of Southern California to study medicine.

Hebertson is majoring in chemistry and has a split major in physics and zoology and is going to study medicine at the University of Utah.

Cooking Cools Collect Homemaking Awards

Della Nielson Pottberg will receive the Hazel Noble Award for outstanding home economics students. Four other students will also receive awards in this department.

Other students honored include Betty Bryce, winner of the Leah D. Witte Award; Joan Dixon and Anna McCully, who will receive cash awards from Margaret Viate Elliot; and Barbara Buckwalter, recipient of the Timpanogas Federated Women's Clubs Award.

Candidates were judged on their scholarship achievements, participation in department activities, professional attitude, and application of home economics to everyday living.

Commerce Students Win Grants from Foundation

Alan R. Thomsander and Robert A. Lemberg are recipients of First Security Foundation Scholarships of $500. They were selected by the College of Commerce on basis of scholarship, character, leadership ability, and need.

Both students will complete their undergraduate studies during the coming school year. They are the highest grade point average of juniors in the College of Commerce.

There were seven other applicants for the award.

Music Department Announces Winners of Service Honors

Two students who have given outstanding service to the band, two outstanding all-around music students and the student who has given outstanding service to A Cappella choir were honored recently with awards.

Boyd Hunter and Kay Mendenhall shared honors for the Van Wagner Band award, as did LaRae Dunn and Martha Tingey for the Keeler-Fitzroy award. Leona Erickson was awarded the Weight A Cappella award.

Madrigal Singers, who recently completed a two-week tour of eastern United States, have announced the names of the winners of three annual awards for outstanding service to Madrigal Singers.

Named to receive the awards are Ina Lou Eldon, soprano, the Halliday award; Frank Miles, tenor, the Summerhays award; and Richard Robinson, bass, the Noel Halliday Memorial award.

Annual KSL awards for excellence in vocal and instrumental broadcast have been awarded to Marva Dance, member of Madrigal Singers, and Gaylen A. Hatton, member of concert band.

Outstanding Performers

Names of five students of music who are recipients of outstanding performers awards have been announced by the music department. The awards which are presented to students for excellence in vocal, piano, organ, wind instrument string instrument, were presented to the following students:

Class of 1919 Gold Medal, for excellence in piano, Dean N. Price.

Taylor Gold Medal, for excellence in piano, Dean N. Price.

Deon J. Wang, for excellence in organ, Marilyn Taylor.

Wye Editor . . .

Richard Pope Wins Poetry, Short Story Writing Prize

Richard L. Pope, Wye magazine editor, has been named winner of both the Hart-Larson poetry award and Marjune Jensen short story award. This is the second time he has won the poetry award.

Second and third place winners of the poetry award are Ronald Wilcox, Modesto, Calif., and Jay Liechty, Springfield.

Donors of the awards are Dr. Edward Hart and Prof. Clinton Larson of the English department, and the late J. Marjune Jensen, former BYU faculty member.

The poetry award, according to Prof. Larson, is given to encourage the best possible writing of modern poetry. He stated that the insight and lack of sentimentality in the poems made them particularly outstanding.

Pope has studied at University of London, and University of Utah. One of his poems was published in "Utah Sings," a recent collection of verse published in Utah. His was the only poem by a student to be published.

Wilcox wrote the script for the varsity show, "Keynote." One of his poems was published in National Anthology and College, and another poem and one essay was published in National Anthology of High School Poetry and Essays.

Coed Judged Winner of Story Contest

Winner of the Elsie C. Carroll short story award is Ilia Marjune Lytle, St. George. This is an annual award presented to the girl writing the best short story.

Mrs. Carroll is a former member of the English department. Mrs. Jay Keeler, wife of the university organist and daughter, Mrs. Carroll, presented the award at the English department banquet.

Mrs. Carroll gives this award to encourage women students to write short stories about people here in the west.

Ilia Marie is a senior transfer student from Dixie College. She has worked on the Wye magazine staff since coming to BYU two years ago. One of her stories has been published in every issue since that time.

University Forensic Association Lists Winners of Annual Speech Events

Forensic awards made during the year included those made for oratory, extemporaneous speaking and all-around contributions to the forensic association, according to Dr. J. LaVar Bate-man.

Vardene Cook was winner of the annual Hooker J. Grant oratorical contest. Miss Cook's oration stressed the importance of genealogy work for which she receives a book autographed by a member of the Grant family.

William J. Skousen, Phoenix, Ariz., has been named recipient of the Forensic Efficiency award. The Speech department presents this award to the senior who has contributed the most to forensic activities.

Skousen served as forensic manager this year. Last year he received the Tau Kappa Alpha national forensic honorary fraternity award for the most outstanding junior varsity participant.

Skousen was winner of the Delta Phi extemporaneous contest annually sponsored by the BYU chapter of Delta Phi.

Rex Lee, St. Johns, Ariz., won the Rotary oratorical contest of February 26. Orations were based on some phase of world peace and finals were judged by members of the Provo Rotary Club. This contest is sponsored annually for the Provo Rotary International. Books were presented to the three finalists.

Lee received the sweepstakes trophy in the first forensic activities of the year. Of the 28 debates he has participated in, he has won 28.

Albert Sorenberg, Bountiful, is recipient of two awards for outstanding forensic activities. Sons of the American Revolution selected Albert as the outstanding junior varsity student in forensics. He is also the winner of the Tau Kappa Alpha national honorary forensic fraternity extemporaneous speaking contest. This was the first time the TKA award has been given on this campus. The TKA contest was sponsored by the BYU chapter and held on campus.

Dick Wilkins and Jack Zenger were winners of the Tau Kappa Alpha varsity debate tournament held at the first of winter quarter on campus. The tournament was sponsored by the BYU chapter of TKA. Twenty-eight teams entered and they were the only undefeated team in the tournament.

Wilkins and Zenger debated a team from Oxford University, England at an assembly before the student body.

Dick is a senior from Provo. He recently received a scholarship to Stanford University Law School, where he plans to study next year. He was 1953 homecoming chairman and president of the French club.

Jack is a junior from Provo majoring in psychology. He received first place in junior men's extemporaneous speaking at a Fresno, Calif., meet last fall. A champion.

Language Majors Win Fellowships

Recent awarding of two fellowships to students majoring in foreign languages was announced by the Language department. Awards went to Richard Packham and Merlin Compton.

Packham, who is majoring in German, has received the University Fellowship from Northwestern University. This fellowship covers tuition, which is approximately $500 per year, and pays $1,000 cash.

Compton, a candidate for M.A. degree in Spanish this June, received an assistantship in the Department of Spanish at University of California at Los Angeles. The stipend is for $1600.

Association Lists Members of Blue Key, he was also elected to serve as next year's AMS president. He is an associate director in the student program bureau.

John Varner received the award for the all-around contribution to forensic association, awarded by the BYU chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha. A sophomore majoring in ancient history, John served as publicity director for this year's forensic association. He has won 33 of the 46 debates he has participated in. He has been active in forensic activities in state meets and at out-of-state meets.

Cornell Fellowship Granted Stockman

Stockman of the year, Orson Albert Boyce, was recently awarded the Morrison Fellowship to Cornell University. Boyce said he will use the fellowship to continue his work in agricultural research.

Boyce will graduate this spring from Brigham Young University in applied sciences. While attending BYU, he has been an

Fellowships for Study in Italy Offered to Graduate Students

Six fellowships for study in Italy have been offered to American graduate students by the Italian Government, it has recently been announced by Kenneth Holland, president of the Institute of International Education, 1 East 47th Street, New York City.

The Italian Embassy in Washington has offered $500 to successful candidates to be used for round-trip travel on an Italian ship or plane.

The awards, made available through the Cultural Relations Office of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, are for a minimum period of six months between October 1954 and July 1955. Closing date for application is July 1, 1954. Men or women in any field of study may apply.

To be administered by the Institute of the United States Student Department, the fellowships are in keeping with the Institute's increased emphasis on Italy-American exchange. Last October it established a committee of advisers on exchange with Italy. The Institute is now seeking to raise a $100,000 Italian fund, half in dollars, half in lire.

Each Italian Government grant bears a stipend of 600,000 lire (approximately $970). Free tuition will be given at a school or university for an entire academic year. Candidates in the musical field will be given extra funds for private lessons. A small stipend is also provided for travel inside Italy.

Candidates must be U. S. citizens, preferably under 35 years of age. Preference will be given to candidates who apply from the U. S. and have not had previous study in Italy. Applicants must have a master's degree or the equivalent in advanced work. They must submit a project for advanced study or research and must demonstrate capacity for independent study.

Although a knowledge of Italian is not required at the time of application, successful candidates are required to learn some Italian before taking up their fellowships. Free tuition will be given fellows who wish to attend the summer orientation course, held especially for foreigners, at the University of Perugia.

Central private agency in the U. S. in the exchange of students, teachers, and specialists, the Institute administers student and other exchange programs for public and private agencies in the U. S. and abroad. This year the Institute has arranged study abroad programs in the U. S. and Italy for 183 Italian and American students and specialists.

Needed Steps For GI Study Are Explained

The necessary steps for taking advantage of G. I. Bill benefits by veterans planning to attend BYU summer school were announced by Vils Olsen, veteran coordinator at Brigham Young University.

Miss Olsen reminded veterans of World War II and those seeking Korean benefits of some of the important dates pertaining to their eligibility.

World War II veterans who are now teaching school and plan to continue their schooling under Public Law No. 346 must have a letter from their principal or school superintendent giving the beginning and ending dates of last year's teaching assignment. These teachers, she pointed out, will be required to take six hours per term during the summer school session.

Korean veterans who want to make use of these benefits, Miss Olsen added, will have to begin school before Aug. 20, 1954, or within two years of the date of their discharge, which ever date is later.

Those students who plan to transfer to BYU from another university must obtain a certificate of transfer from the last school they attended, she pointed out.

Applications for schooling under the G. I. Bill are available at the Veteran Coordinator's office, Maeser basement, Brigham Young University.

New Staff Named By KBYU Leader

Next year's staff for KBYU has been announced by Carmo Collett, KBYU director. The board of directors were elected on the basis of their work this past year at BYU, according to Miss Collett.

Mel Gordin, North Hollywood, will be news and sports director; Roger Haglund, Los Angeles, classical music; Owen Benson, Epsom, popular music; Larry Peterson, Lethbridge, Alta., Canada, special events.

Next year's program directors are Glen Davis, Provo; Keith Martin, New Jersey; Mark Hathaway, Las Vegas; Glen Harmon, Berkeley, Calif.; and Dallas Machen, Sacramento.

This new organization presents the opportunity for more people to participate in responsible positions, and is a means to encourage extensive cooperation, a tighter unity, and to draw more people interested in radio into the organization, stated Miss Collett.

Texans Play Band Work Of Fuerstner

"Overture for Band" by Carl Fuerstner, noted composer, conductor, and concert pianist of the Brigham Young University music faculty, recently was performed on the Southwestern Symposium of American Music, at Austin, Texas.

Under the baton of Bernard Fitzgerald, who was a member of the BYU summer music festival last year, the work was performed on University of Texas campus. It was originally written for the BYU concert band, and first was performed with the composer conducting in 1952 at Provo. The work also has been performed in Cologne, Germany, and Rochester, N. Y., by the Eastman Wind Ensemble under the direction of F. Fennell.

Other performances of Mr. Fuerstner's compositions include the Paganini Quartet's performance of his Divertimento for String Quartet; Clarinet Sonata performed by Harry Schmidt; Piano Sonata performed by the composer, and the madrigal, May Morning, performed by the BYU Madrigal singers.

Pianist, Conductor Stated to Give His Spring Recital

Carl Fuerstner, concert pianist, conductor and composer, will present his spring recital in Salt Lake City on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. at Ladies' Library Club.

Prof. Fuerstner was referred to as an internationally famous musician before coming to this country. He has been artist-in-residence at Brigham Young University for the past ten summers. He joined the BYU faculty full time three years ago.

Former conductor of the Cognition Opera Company, and director of opera at Eastman School of Music, University of Rochester, in New York, he appears widely in guest-conducting posts. His compositions have been performed by top musical groups throughout the world.

For his Salt Lake City appearance, Prof. Fuerstner has scheduled Remue's Four Pieces; Schubert's C Minor Sonata, and Moussorgsky's Pictures at an Exhibition. After the concert, he will depart for Europe where he will remain during the summer.

Representative Returns From Nurses Conference

Brigham Young University Nursing School Representative Margaret Park, recently returned from a National Student Nurse Association convention held in Chicago, Ill.

NSNA was organized last year to maintain high educational, professional, cultural, and spiritual standards in nursing.

Miss Park reported that 1400 students from 46 states were in attendance. The Convention theme was "Calling American Nurses to Action."

Featured at the convention was an Informal Social Hour for Student Nurses as well as several sectional meetings, student talent show, and special sight seeing tours.

LDS Hospital Director of Nurses, Eleanor Sheldon, also attended and participated on the program. Miss Sheldon is indirectly affiliated with BYU staff. Miss Vivian R. Hansen, department head attended several of the sectional meetings.

Talent of the Week...

Freshman Singer Active On Stage

A soprano singing freshman with over 50 stage appearances this year is this week's talent of the week. She is Francis Atterton of Raymond, Alberta, Canada, but who now lives in Chehalis, Wash.

She has appeared in hospitals, prisons, hotels, churches, and on television, and has toured Southern Utah in addition to a trip to California with the Opera Workshop. Although she averages about two shows a week, Francis once appeared in seven shows in one week.

Francis started singing in the third grade and has had three years of vocal lessons.

Fall quarter she was chosen as Best Woman Vocalist and during winter quarter was a soloist with the Park University women's chorus, which performed for inmates at Utah State Prison at Point of the Mountain.

She was Grand Sweepstakes winner of a Kiwanis talent show in her junior year in high school and placed second in a television talent show in Seattle, Wash.

FRANCIS ATTERTON
... Opera performer

She was picked to sing in the All Northwestern Music Conference at Bellingham, Wash. and was in the Portland Rose Festival.

Last summer she held one of the leads in His Majesty's "Pinafore," which played for ten days in Portland, Ore. She also sang in Portland Music in May. In high school she won superior ratings in music festivals six times. While in high school she was very active in church shows and was card chorister.
